SUMMARY

Reporting to the Community Engagement Coordinator, guides will lead NCHGS’s popular Eerie Easton Walking Tours throughout the Easton Historic District during the fall season. Guides will be responsible for leading up to 25 people per tour and must possess exceptional written and verbal communication skills.

All scripts and supplementary materials will be provided at training. It is the guides’ responsibility to familiarize themselves with all relevant materials, stick to the script provided, and be able to field questions from attendees. NCHGS’s Eerie Easton Walking Tour explores tales of murder, mischief, and misadventure throughout the Easton Historic District. It is crucial that guides understand and maintain NCHGS’s position that these tours are historical in nature. They relate confirmed facts and are explicitly clear that any speculation is just that - speculation.

This is not a “ghost tour” or Halloween-themed program. Eerie Easton Walking Tours are based on historical evidence and are supplemented with photographs, documents, interviews, and other primary and secondary sources from the NCHGS Archives. Guides who digress from the historical nature of the material will be reviewed and given a verbal warning. If the problem persists, the guide will receive a written warning, followed by termination.

ABOUT NCHGS

Established in 1906, NCHGS is Northampton County, Pennsylvania’s leading institution of local history and is home to significant collections of pre-European settlement artifacts, decorative arts, textiles, farming implements, colonial furniture, and the award-winning Destination: Northampton County exhibition which celebrates immigration, diversity, and community-building. The Sigal Museum opened in the summer of 2010, offering guests interactive exhibits, self-guided and docent-led tours, special children’s programs, and lecture series on local and American history. It is one of four museums and historic sites operated by the Northampton County Historical & Genealogical Society in historic downtown Easton. The Sigal Museum is also home to the Jane S. Moyer Library, which provides a wealth of resources for students, scholars, and genealogical researchers.

The Charles Chrin Gallery at Sigal Museum serves as a showcase for rotating special exhibitions highlighting collections of the Northampton County Historical & Genealogical Society and its partners. The Sigal Museum Discovery Room of hands-on, interactive history hosts school groups and family activities, as well as the Cops ‘n’ Kids Reading Room literacy program.

NCHGS collaborates actively with local cultural and community organizations to enrich its exhibitions, programs, and events, and to enhance the quality of life in the Lehigh Valley. Groups include the NAACP, churches, temples, synagogues, LGBTQIA+ community centers, institutions of higher learning, and many more. NCHGS is also the leader of the Lehigh Valley Passport to History group, a partnership of over 40 museums, historical societies, and cultural organizations who have banded together to share resources.

OUR MISSION

We share the stories of Northampton County’s past to encourage personal reflection, community dialogue, and an understanding of history’s impact on our lives.
